

TEUTON GUNS LESS ACTIVE IN FLANDERS

VIGOROUS ARTILLERY FIGHTING CONTINUES ALONG SCENE OF RECENT ALLIED DRIVE.

ATTACK ALONG AISNE

Crown Prince's Troops Deliver an Offensive Near Cerny After an Intense Bombardment.

British front in France and Belgium, Aug. 3.—Artillery duels of considerable intensity continued last night along the battle front in Flanders, but generally speaking, the German guns were less active this morning and the situation was unchanged. At daybreak the Germans concentrated a heavy artillery on the newly acquired British positions in the area south of the Ypres-Menin road.

British Regain Ground. London, Aug. 3.—British troops, according to a statement issued by the war department, already had regained part of the ground lost when the German offensive broke through the British lines on the Ypres front, to east of the Le Prieux, last night.

Attack on Aisne Front. Paris, Aug. 3.—Troops of the German crown prince, after an intense bombardment, last night drove the British back from the Aisne front, along a front of about 1,500 yards. The French official statement issued this afternoon says that the British were repulsed on the Aisne front, but the bad weather continued.

Allies Hold Gains. British front in France and Belgium, Aug. 3.—The British and French along the German attack, along the front of the British fighting in the Aisne region, late today in an attempt to break through the German lines. Beyond artillery operations, which are continuing with great intensity, there is little activity with the exception of one or two points, and the British and French are holding their positions and strongly organized positions commanding the territory which they captured from the Germans in the last few hours' onslaught. The battle today continued to be stormy, the artillery on both sides continuing steadily at their opponent's positions at this place. The British were again in possession of the front just north of Frezenburg, which the Germans wrested from them in a counter attack late yesterday. In a short drive last night, the British and French prepared to attack the Germans from this strong position and have held it since. This was the only German counter attack of any consequence since Wednesday.

Details of Drive. Reports of Tuesday's battle show that the front between Holbeke and the Bassein Vill was the scene of some of the fiercest fighting in the Aisne region. The British and French along this line, swept over many German lines in shell holes which were overlooked in the darkness. After the British troops had gone beyond these holes, the Germans began sniping at the rear of the advancing forces. These snipers were eventually cleared. The German troops in this section made a stiff fight.

In the ruined village of Holbeke the British and French were faced with large numbers of concrete dugouts which had no surface entrances, but which were approached by tunnels. The attacking troops forced their way into these dugouts, which contained large numbers of men, and blew them to pieces with bombs. This underground tunnel is still filled with German bodies.

AUSTRIAN EMPEROR RECEIVES MICHAELIS

London, Aug. 3.—Emperor Charles of Austria received in audience Dr. Michaelis, the German imperial ambassador on Thursday, says a dispatch from Amsterdam to the Central News Agency.

Compliments Hindenburg. London, Aug. 3.—A Copenhagen dispatch to Reuters' limited circulation newspaper, says that the German emperor, Kaiser Wilhelm, has sent a message to Field Marshal Hindenburg. "It is a need of my heart, my dear Field Marshal, at the conclusion of the war, in which you so insistently and with brilliant strategy and art, have defied the enemy's superior forces and cleared the way for our armies, and then, in the face of the most inhuman and cruel attacks, you have stood firm and held the high command of the royal orders of the House of Hohenzollern. The badges will be posted immediately."

See Entente Weakened. Berlin, Aug. 3.—The North German Gazette sees in British interest in the fulfillment of French war aims a dangerous and a precarious condition of the entente allies, is said in England's sturdy champion, the Daily Express, to be a "French wish."

RESULTS SOLDIER BOYS DUCKED IN HORSE TROUGH. Waukegan, Wis., Aug. 3.—Frank Burgess, a saloonkeeper at Waukegan, charged a severe punishment on a soldier boy who was caught in a horse trough here when he was trapped after the soldier boy, dumping the government, and dumping Captain Andrews. The boy stood it for a time and then jumped in and swam to have his pants on his trousers sewed up after he had sought refuge in the basement of a building he owns here.

Germany Given Text Of Serb Ultimatum Before Its Delivery

Washington, Aug. 3.—Germany had possession of Austria's ultimatum to Serbia fourteen hours before it was delivered to Belgrade, according to positive information which has reached officials here, and which was made public today for the first time.

It was stated that Foreign Secretary Zimmermann admitted this, himself, when pressed very closely as to Germany's foreknowledge of the action of her ally which precipitated the European war. Zimmermann's knowledge in all her public documents that she was not consulted by Austria as to the ultimatum and did not even have knowledge of the same. Foreign Secretary Zimmermann's admission, however, is interpreted here to show that Germany had full knowledge of the note in time to stop action on it. It is felt that essentially the ultimatum however is felt to have proved her an accomplice of Austria.

The admission was stated to have been made when Zimmermann was pressed closely as to Germany's knowledge of the ultimatum. For a considerable time, it was stated, he maintained that Germany has known nothing, but finally when certain information and facts were presented, Zimmermann admitted Germany had had the text for fourteen hours before its delivery. This, he seems to think, was not sufficient time for action.

MADISON MAN FINED TWENTY-FIVE DOLLARS

Pays Half Usual Fine Because Officer Who Took Him to Jail Is Alleged to Have Beaten Him Up.

F. W. Mosel of Madison, who was arrested Tuesday night for driving an automobile while intoxicated, was fined twenty-five dollars and costs in the municipal court. The usual fine is fifty dollars. Mosel introduced a blood-stained handkerchief and told of the officer beating him as he was being taken to jail and the court stated that in view of this fact, the usual fine would be reduced. According to the investigation by the court, it is alleged that Patrick Slein, the officer who is still under fire for the alleged assault upon Mrs. Slein's Kinney on Monday night, was the officer in question.

Thus far nothing definite has been accomplished as to the charges of the alleged assault upon Kinney. Slein was taken before Mayor Father's court Thursday afternoon, and gave his version of the alleged assault. He admitted it is understood that he struck the Kinney woman, but claimed extenuating circumstances. Thus far the chief, who has the power to refer charges, has not done so, although charges may be taken shortly to determine the guilt or innocence of the accused officer. What effect this decision will have on the matter, remains to be seen. It is understood the Kinney woman has refused to swear out a warrant for the arrest of Slein, who is stated on Tuesday she intended doing.

FREE DRINKING CUPS MUST BE PROVIDED

Madison, Wis., Aug. 3.—Attorney General Owen has ruled that the state shall provide the law requiring the furnishing of free drinking cups on trains. A complaint has been made against the St. Paul road for failing to furnish the law requiring free drinking cups on trains. When the matter was brought to the attention of the attorney general, he ruled that the law requires that free drinking cups be provided on all trains. The attorney general's ruling was made on the basis of a complaint that the St. Paul road was failing to provide free drinking cups on its trains. The attorney general's ruling was made on the basis of a complaint that the St. Paul road was failing to provide free drinking cups on its trains.

It is considered your suggestion that the cards reading "Individual drinking cups may be obtained by application to brakeman and porter in compliance with the law," says Attorney General Owen in a letter to the company. "I do not think it complies either with the letter or spirit of the law. It does not make the passenger obtain a cup in a convenient way of securing a drinking cup that is within the contemplation of the statute. More than this, it is an insult to the intelligence of the passengers on trains have been unable to obtain this cup from any train employee. One of the assistants of this office, in compliance with the law, and made application to the brakeman, conductor and to the news agent, from none of whom was he able to secure a drinking cup. If an assistant of this office is unable to obtain a drinking cup, it is only to understand that many persons traveling on trains, with less traveling experience, will be unable to obtain a drinking cup. More than this, there are many people traveling on your trains who cannot read that card, and to them it amounts to no knowledge at all.

The attorney general intends to prosecute unless the law is complied with.

WOLFE TO TIGHTEN UP ANTI-SPY FIGHT

La Crosse, Aug. 3.—United States District Attorney Albert C. Wolfe today announced he had started a campaign to indict and bring to trial under the espionage law, all persons making remarks calculated to undermine the morale of the militia of the state. He announced that he would ask the court to make the bonds of such cases $10,000. Wolfe said that he had issued several warrants.

WELL, NOBODY WANTS TO TRAVEL THERE ANYWAY

Mexico City, Aug. 3.—The prices of railway and sleeping car tickets on the railroads operated by the Mexican government were increased 5 per cent on July 10.

CERNOWITZ IS CAPTURED BY TEUTONS

AUSTRO-GERMAN ARMY OCCUPIES CAPITAL OF BUCKOWINA, SAYS VIENNA ANNOUNCEMENT.

RE-TAKEN MANY TIMES

City Has Been the Center of Several Vigorous Campaigns—Russians Also Evacuate Kimpolung.

Berlin, via London, Aug. 3.—Cernowitz, the capital of Bukowina, has been captured by Teuton forces on September 4, 1914. In the following month the Russians again returned to the attack and after a terrific battle stormed the capital and drove the Austrians out. This time the Russians held the city for only two weeks. Twice in January, 1916, the seat of the crownland changed hands, and in June of that year it was again captured by Russians, and held until the present time. Cernowitz is situated on a hill south of the river Pruth and is about 140 miles south-east of Lemberg, the capital of Galicia. Before the war its population was about 70,000.

Cernowitz has been the scene of some of the most bitter fighting of the war and the Bukowina capital has changed from Teuton to Russian hands altogether four times. Cernowitz was first captured by the Russians from the Austro-Hungarians on September 4, 1914. In the following month the Russians again returned to the attack and after a terrific battle stormed the capital and drove the Austrians out. This time the Russians held the city for only two weeks. Twice in January, 1916, the seat of the crownland changed hands, and in June of that year it was again captured by Russians, and held until the present time. Cernowitz is situated on a hill south of the river Pruth and is about 140 miles south-east of Lemberg, the capital of Galicia. Before the war its population was about 70,000.

Evacuate Kimpolung. Petrograd, Aug. 3.—Kimpolung, in southern Bukowina, has been evacuated by Russians, the war office announced today. The Russians are now engaged in the evacuation of the Austro-German forces on the river Bystritsa. Between the Dniester and Pruth rivers the Russian retreat is continuing. The Russian forces in southern Bukowina are now being evacuated. After a battle which the Austro-Germans retired across the river Zbrozok at its confluence with the river Dniester.

MADISON PLANNING BIG POTATO SHOW

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.) Madison, Wis., Aug. 3.—What promises to be one of the most important steps in Wisconsin's conservation and preparedness program will be the holding of the nation's most important potato show and convention at the big fairgrounds, pavilion at Madison, November 19-24.

This will be the sixth annual exposition of the Wisconsin Potato Growers' association, which is the largest and most influential organization of this kind which have been formed in this country. Even in normal times this convention and exposition has attracted a large attendance and the attendance of the potato crop convention will have unusual significance.

James G. Milward, secretary of the association, reports the appointment of the following convention committees: Advisory committee on management—H. L. Russell, director of agriculture; E. J. Luther, superintendent of farmers' institutes; and K. L. Hato, director of agricultural extension service for the university.

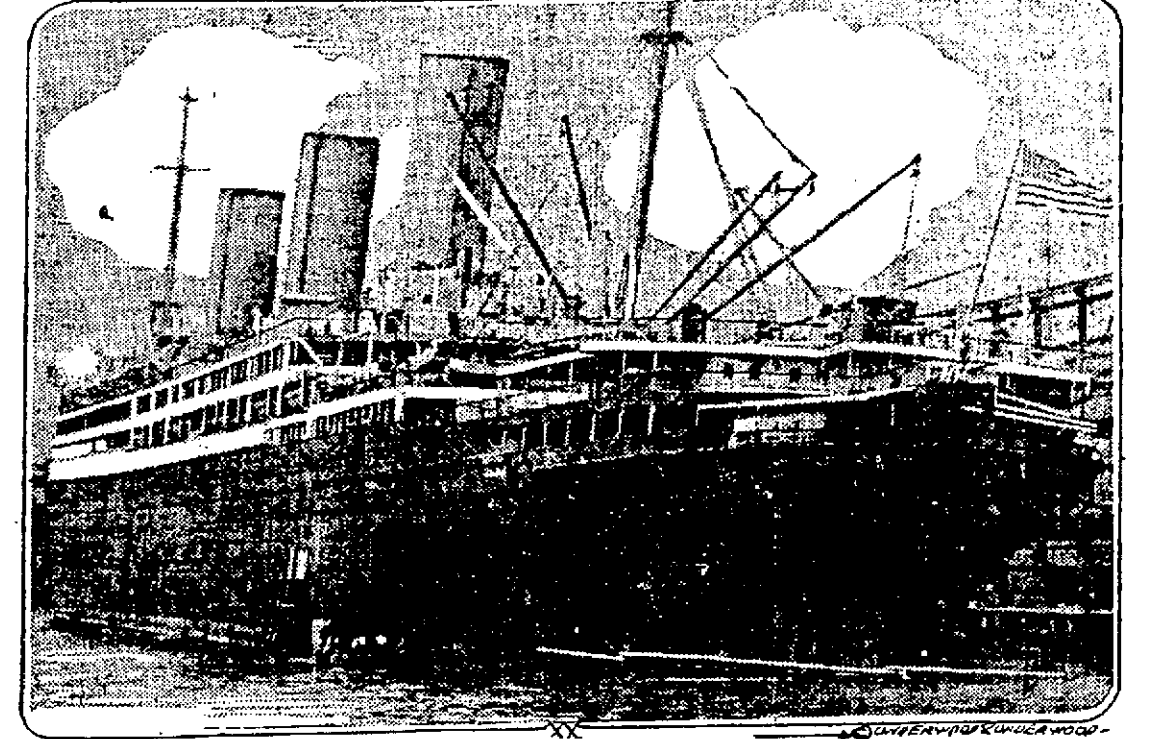

Transportation.—A. L. Fisher, freight agent C. & N. W.; George Wallace, freight agent C. St. P. & O.; J. H. Judge, freight agent of the C. & M. Federal crop reporters early in July estimated that with a continuance of satisfactory weather conditions Wisconsin would produce more than twice as much of the potato crop of 1916. The potato growers of the state, due to the work which they have done in certifying their seed stock and standardizing their market products, have acquired an enviable reputation upon the potato markets of this country.

RIDICULES GERMAN PEACE RESOLUTION

Copenhagen, Aug. 3.—The Vossische Zeitung, under a Stockholm dispatch, ridicules the German peace resolution. The resolution is quoted as saying that the "reaching of a solution depends on the paper unless converted into deeds, and declares that the socialist conference unless German democracy matters courage to put an end to the military reactionary pacifism by thoroughly democratizing parliament.

Austria and Russia are ready to come to an understanding, M. Huysmans declared and the French parliament already has disclaimed "alleged annexation designs," by which the German government tried to make capital to check the peace current. He had made his home at the Soldiers' Home for about twenty-eight years. His daughter is the only survivor.

VATERLAND, ONCE GERMANY'S PRIDE, IN READINESS NOW TO TAKE 10,000 AMERICAN SOLDIERS AT A TIME TO FRANCE

Vaterland, flying stars and stripes, ready to sail. The giant steamship Vaterland, of the Hamburg-American line, now flies the American flag, and is ready for any purpose to which Uncle Sam may wish to put her. The Vaterland is the largest passenger vessel in the world, and 10,000 American troops at a time may be transported on her to France.

Germany's Man Power Is Now On The Wane

At the beginning of the fourth year of the war the sources are multiplying which tend to show that Germany's man power is on the wane. Thousands of her conscripts of the class of 1915 have been captured on the western front. Of the total enlistments of 1,350,000 men, including the class of 1915, there remain, according to deductions made from German official reports, 8,606,693. The balance on June 1 had been disposed of as follows: Killed or died of wounds... 1,032,800 Died of illness... 72,960 Wounded... 2,825,581 Prisoners... 591,996 The German casualties of the same sort a year ago amounted to 2,935,177. She therefore lost in the first ten months of the third year of the war 1,558,130. Of the 8,606,693 there remain on active service or in reserve between the ages of seventeen and forty-five, 5,435,000. To these may be added in the coming year, 1918, number 450,000, making a total of 5,885,000 effective.

MAN DROWNS AFTER AVOIDING ENGINE

Appleton, Aug. 3.—Henry Koener, of South River street, this city, while crossing the railroad bridge below the third lock, was drowned last night. Koener, who was crossing the bridge and was stepped aside and in some manner fell into the Fox river. He floated down about ten feet and then disappeared. He was carrying a little daughter, who had come to meet him. Koener was carpenter foreman for the Meyer Construction company at Oshkosh, doing work at Kimberly.

AUSTRIA AND SLAVS ON VERGE OF PEACE

London, Aug. 3.—Camille Huysmans, the Belgian secretary of the international socialist conference, in an interview with a correspondent of a Dutch newspaper, declared that Russia and Austria-Hungary were on the verge of coming to an understanding, according to a dispatch from the Exchange Telegraph company.

ATHENS IS DECLARED IN STATE OF SIEGE

There will be two pony running races, one mile and one half mile heats. There will be eight automobile races and two motorcycle races. Preparations are being made for seating from five to six thousand people. Race drivers expected to take part in the automobile races. Other drivers from Milwaukee, Michigan, Illinois and Minnesota are expected to enter.

Civil War Colonel Dies

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 3.—Col. Edward Simpson, 73, veteran of the Civil war, and father of Miss Cheridan Simpson, musical comedy star, is dead at the Soldiers' Home. Col. Simpson was a member of Company B, 24th Wisconsin Infantry in the Civil war. He had made his home at the Soldiers' Home for about twenty-eight years. His daughter is the only survivor.

MANIFESTO REFUSES FULL INDEPENDENCE TO FINNISH PEOPLE

Petrograd, Aug. 3.—The provisional government has refused to acknowledge Finland's independence law and has issued a manifesto dissolving the landtag and appointing a general election on October first, declaring that the government, when the landtag meets, will submit its own law regulating Russo-Finnish relations. The manifesto, which is signed by all ten ministers, explains the provisional government's contention, but Finland enjoyed independence only within the limits defined by her constitution, the essential factor of which is the position of the emperor and grand dukes, which has now passed to the provisional government. The independence law, the manifesto says, not being submitted for the sanction of the provisional government, as the authority invested with the grand duke's right of a sanction, is unconstitutional. The manifesto cannot recognize the Finnish landtag's right arbitrarily to seize the freedom of will of the coming constituent assembly. The fate of Finland and the Russian people, the manifesto declared. The minister for Finland took the manifesto to Helsinki and declared it to Governor General Stokor, who read it to the senate, after which he said: "This manifesto is the most democratic action yet performed by the provisional government for it makes Finland's people masters of their own destinies."

APPROVE UNIVERSITY WAR EXPENDITURES

Madison, Wis., Aug. 3.—All expenditures made by the university extension department for war emergency purposes will be "O. K'd" by the state council for defense before they can be taken from the special emergency fund of $25,000 for that purpose by the last session of the legislature. When the extension appropriation bill was before the legislature an appropriation of $25,000 was made, and an amendment incorporated showing that this sum was to be used for war emergency work.

Washington, Aug. 3.—The heated spell is at an end in all parts of the country, but a few days of hot weather today, although conditions in the far northwest indicate the return of warm weather in the northern districts within a few days.

NORWAY DETAINS MANY AMERICANS

Washington, Aug. 3.—Detention at Christiania, Norway, of almost 600 passengers on their way to Russia, has caused the American legation at Christiania to make the suggestion through the state department that it is advisable for passengers to Russia to ascertain the exact destination before leaving the United States.

MILWAUKEE WIS., AUG. 3.—George Swallow, retired capitalist, is dead after a lingering illness. Hardening of the arteries was the cause of his death. He was active as a senior member of the lumber firm of Swallow and Hopkins, with offices at Waton, Minn.

Kaiser's War Ledger Shows Year's Losses

Analysis of the events of the year of war just ended shows the balance running against Germany and its allies. Here are the chief items: To Germany's Credit: Ravages of the U-boats. From 400,000 to 600,000 tons of merchant ships—perhaps more—put out of service monthly in the last six months. Neutral shipping largely frightened off sea. Disorganization of the Russian army due to revolution. Rout of the Russians in Galicia and Bukowina. Conquest of Rumania, with possession of rich farming and oil fields. To Credit of Entente: United States, Brazil, seven other American nations and Siam enter the war against Germany, or have severed diplomatic relations with Germany, because of the U-boat campaign. Great wealth, man power, manufacturing power and inventive genius thrown into the scale. Rumania and Greece with fresh armies join the allies. Russian democracy uprooting German influence throughout Russia and spreading the campaign against autocracy among the German and Austrian masses. Death of Francis Joseph and rise of Emperor Charles, who has overthrown the pro-Prussian party in Austria-Hungary and has taken a powerful hand in committing the German reichstag to a program of peace without conquest. German socialists openly fighting autocracy and carrying their campaign to the army. Strikes and riots in many parts of the empire. The American embargo, which will shut off many military and food supplies Germany has been getting through neutrals. Retreat on the front of eighty miles by the German army in France. Capture by the British of Pimy and Messines ridges and by the French of the Croune plateau and Port aux Boes. Advance of the British past Bagdad and across the Sinai Peninsula. Capture of Gorizia by the Italians and Monastir by the Serbs.

SAYS U. S. IN WAR MEANS EARLY PEACE

Madison, Wis., Aug. 3.—Healy Powell, a former resident of Madison, and a graduate of the University of Wisconsin, who was serving in the ambulance corps, said: "The advent of the United States has been of tremendous importance to the final outcome of the European war. It seems that instead of prolonging the struggle for an indefinite time, we shall soon see peace made."

MUCH SOUGHT FORGER FINALLY CAPTURED

La Crosse, Aug. 3.—J. H. Temple of St. Louis, Mo., for whom the federal authorities as well as police of practically every large city in the middle west and north have been searching for six months, was arrested at Watertown, Wis., Thursday by John L. Mont, United States deputy marshal, and brought to La Crosse, where he was held to the grand jury pending an order from Judge K. M. Landis, who is now in Chicago. Temple is alleged to have forged a great many checks, using five aliases.

FINE GUERNSEY COW COMING TO COUNTY

Another addition to Rock county's collection of pure bred stock will be made in the course of a few days when Castle's Beauty Second, one of the finest Guernsey cows in the west, will be brought to the Lovejoy farm south of the city. The cow, which is a registered animal with a long string of records behind her, was purchased by William J. Jones of Waukegan by A. P. and H. S. Lovejoy a short time ago. She has a record of 9,000 pounds of milk and 600 pounds of butter fat in a year. Marriage License: A license to wed has been issued by County Clerk Lee to the Reverend LeRoy A. John of Elkhorst and Miss Dorothy M. Hare, a domestic science teacher in the Evansville schools.

WILL RAISE WAR TAX OF TWO BILLION

SENATE FINANCE COMMITTEE COMPLETES WORK ON REVENUE MEASURE TO BE REPORTED.

ONE CENT ON CHECKS

Corporation Incomes, Excess Profits and Liquors Will Bear Brunt of War Tax Burden.

Washington, Aug. 3.—The war department tax bill, increased from $1,672,000,000 to approximately $2,002,000,000, virtually was completed today by the senate finance committee and will be reported to the senate tomorrow or Monday.

In preparing the final draft for the printer, the committee reduced the tax on beer by 25 cents a barrel, to $1.50 a barrel in addition to the tax under the present law, and increased the rates on wines to about double the present rates, and estimated to yield $700,000,000 in additional revenue.

Of the $2,002,000,000 proposed new taxes, about $720,000,000 will be secured from corporate and individual incomes; $745,000,000 from war excess profits about $200,000,000 from rectified and distilled spirits; $45,000,000 from fermented and malt liquors, and $23,000,000 from wines. Few other schedules are changed in the final revision.

An important eleventh hour change was to apply the new one cent bank check tax to checks of all amounts, raising about $100,000,000 in all. The bill previously taxed only checks of more than $5. The committee also wrote in a new provision, exempting from all postage rates the checks of all amounts, and sailors in foreign lands, and provided that the proposed new tax of one cent on each 25 cents paid for transporting parcels, most packages shall now apply to packages weighing less than four ounces.

U. S. U-BOAT HUNTERS SERVED HOT COFFEE

Base of American flotillas in British Waters, Aug. 3.—Black coffee is the popular drink with the men over here in Uncle Sam's teetotal navy. Seamen aboard the destroyers when they are looking for submarines. The men say it not only keeps them awake but serves also as a stimulant and keeps them going against the rigorous conditions under which they labor. They have not yet carried on board ship the afternoon tea habit which they have formed ashore and found such a satisfactory substitute for the use of alcoholic drinks. The vast majority of the men say they do not mind the absence of alcoholic drink on board their ships. Those who want it can get it ashore from midday until 8 in the evening, but for the vast majority the liquor stores have been very little changed. The record of the men as a whole in this respect, say the officers, has been one of the gratifying features of their stay here. The sailors, therefore, have very little to do but walk on and down the main street of the village in search of the trouble that seldom comes.

WOUNDED I. W. W. MAN JAILED FOR TREASON

Salt Lake City, Utah, Aug. 3.—With a deep bayonet wound in his back, received when he resisted national guardsmen who arrested him, George W. Longfellow, an admitted industrial worker of the World, is in the Salt Lake county jail. His arrest was effected at Bingham after it is alleged, he had cursed the government and damned the United States flag.

SLACKER BANDITS TO FIGHT POSSES

Oklahoma City, Okla., Aug. 3.—A band of thirty alleged draft resisters, who are believed to have shot Deputy Sheriff J. W. Crook near Wewoka yesterday, and last night to have fired or dynamited the "Frisco" trestle bridging the South Canadian river, between San Francisco and Ada, are reported to have established their selves in the brush south of Sasakwa, to resist arrest. Poses has started from Konowa, Francis and Ada.

CAPTAIN'S HONOR GREATER THAN WAS FIRST SUPPOSED

Is Only Officer Out of Wisconsin-Michigan Division to Be Sent to Washington.

Though it was recognized that Captain Caldwell of Company M had been rewarded with a signal honor when he was ordered to report to Washington for instruction in the war college, it was not until last evening when the captain passed through this city en route to the east that the full significance of the honor was realized. He is the only officer out of the entire Wisconsin and Michigan division to be so selected for this special instruction.

Captain Caldwell left Camp Douglas under orders to report personally to General Barry at Chicago, commander of the central division, and from there proceeds this afternoon to Washington, where he will begin his training in the technicalities of trench warfare. It is thought that he will be gone for a month or two weeks, and that he is about to rejoin his regiment at Waco, Texas.

Company M, with the Beloit and Monroe units, were to arrive here yesterday at Camp Douglas, pulling in about noon. They at once marched to their site and began the work of preparing their camp; the weather was cool and clear and by midnight the entire company was housed in tents and ready for the evening meal.

All of the units to assemble at the camp. Company M was the only company in every detail and ready for the physical examination administered to the guardsmen by the federal examining officers. In most cases there were many applicants to be gone through with before this can be done, but Captain Caldwell had foreseen all of these and had put Company M in camp ready for anything. The entire camp was also issued to the men, before those of any other unit.

Janesville Women Will Be Hostesses at Canning Demonstration at High School Building.

The August meeting of the Summer Club of Home Economics will be held in Janesville on next Thursday, Aug. 9th. The members of the club in Janesville will be the hostesses on occasion, and will make the arrangement for the meeting. The plans as contemplated at present include two addresses and a canning demonstration in the science room of the high school building.

An address on eugenics will be given by Mrs. Laura Boardman of Evansville, and a talk by Mrs. Sylvia Colony, also of Evansville, who is president of the first district Federation of Women's Clubs. The demonstration will probably include the canning of one kind of fruit and one kind of vegetable, and the work will be done by Miss Doris Amerphol. Miss Amerphol is recently taken the course of lectures on canning and drying, given at the University of Wisconsin, and has the new subject of interest ideas on the subject formulated by the university experts. The program and demonstration will be given in the afternoon, beginning at two o'clock, and the public are cordially invited to attend the meeting, which is both a social and educational affair. The club includes members from many of the surrounding small towns and probably a number of these ladies will be in attendance.

DON'T WASTE ANY TIME TO SENTENCE JACK DORSEY

Judge H. L. Maxfield in police court this morning only awaited Jack Dorsey's "Guilty," after the reading of the warrant, to snap out "Ninety days." Jack was charged with being a drunk and a vagrant, and was fined $25 and costs or thirty days; August Fredericks, $10 and costs or fifteen days, and Otto Gherke $5 and costs or seven days.

MANY NEW SILOS BUILT IN COUNTY

Over Two Hundred Will Be Erected This Summer as a Result of the Recent Campaign.

As one of the results of the recent campaign in Rock county, over two hundred silos will be constructed this summer on Rock county farms, according to reliable figures from the County Agricultural Agent. Markham. This will bring the total number of silos in the county up to more than 1,500, or about one to every two farms. The majority of the new silos will be built of steel, although a number of brick, tile and concrete structures are going up.

PRESBYTERIAN LADIES HOLD ANNUAL PICNIC

An annual affair, looked forward to by the members of the Ladies' Aid society of the Presbyterian church, occurred on Wednesday, when the ladies were entertained in a most enjoyable manner at the home of Mrs. George Wright, at the cottage, six miles up the river. The trip was made by boat with Alice Buchholz in charge, some also going by auto. About forty were in the party, and a most enjoyable day was spent. Dinner and supper were both served, the tables being laid in the adjoining cottage of Mrs. Kittle Ashcraft. During the recent week, when the cottages along the river are well patronized and some of the people from the nearby homes enjoyed the pleasures of the picnic also. There were a number of children in the party and also several gentlemen.

Thursday's Market.
Chicago Aug. 2.—Best grades of hogs met with an active call yesterday and prices closed strong, the average standing 95c higher than two weeks ago and the highest since June 2.

This week's receipts of hogs will fall short of 100,000, the second smallest week's total since October, 1915. General quality yesterday, however, was unusually good for this season of the year.

Both corn fed native beefs and distillery fed steers sold at $14.00, with fancy bullocks quotable at last week's record price of $14.15. Quality continued poor.

Average price of hogs at Chicago was $15.70, against $15.62 Wednesday, $15.32 a week ago, $9.35 a year ago and $6.78 two years ago.

Most Cattle Dull.
Although a few choice steers held steady to strong yesterday, the bulk were slow and weak. The heavier cattle were not entirely cleared at the finish. General quality was only fair and with a small percentage of finished corn fed stock of every description.

Inevitable Division

By REV. J. H. RALSTON, D.D.
Secretary of Correspondence Department,
Moody Bible Institute, Chicago

TEXT—So there was a division among the people because of him.—John 7:43.

The division referred to in the text was one caused by Jesus of Nazareth—there was a division of the people because of him. To this day, men divide on personality—one is for Roosevelt, another for Bryan, one for Wilson and another for Hughes, and probably more than ever before, are men and women as voters in the passing years considering men rather than parties or party platforms.

In the case of Jesus Christ, it was not a question as to the truth or falsity of his teaching, but as to his personality—Who was he?

Law of Christ's Life.
As we study Jesus Christ in the brief three years of his active public life, we find the law of division prevailing. Now and then, there would be an outburst of almost universal favor, but immediately there would be an outburst of almost universal opposition. Quite literally, he seemed to have come to divide men, even members of the same family, father against son and mother against daughter.

At this point, we may inquire as to the purpose of his coming. The popular view of the angels' message that a Savior had come to bring peace to the earth, is to be modified by the Savior's own words that he came to bring a sword, and while the ultimate result of the Savior's coming will be universal peace, the road to that peace is one of conflict and human division. Jesus did not come to originate division or to instigate it, but to make clear the actual division that already existed between men, but which was obscured. Jesus Christ simply caused the elements in humanity, that were really antagonistic, and which were so mingled that the lines of division were not clear, to become more distinct. As a bringer of judgment then, we must not look on Jesus Christ as he has been caricatured as coming, "with overmastering rage, bent on revenge."

Division of Doctrine.
The text is very clear that the discussion was as to whether Jesus Christ was the prophet predicted in Deuteronomy 18, 15, 18, or not. To put the matter broadly, was he the fulfillment of prophecy? That might be questioned by the Jews today, but with the Gentile world the question is rather, is that historic Jesus who he claimed to be after he came to this earth? There is practically universal consent to the character of Jesus of Nazareth—the old-established and orthodox churches, and indeed, many of the modern religious faddists proclaim the perfect character of Jesus Christ, but the bone of contention is not reached by these. The bone lies at the point where man asks, is this Jesus of Nazareth, the Son of God, not mystically, not potentially, not morally, but essentially and really the Son of God possessing divine attributes and manifesting true deity? Ultimately, that is the question that must be decided, and it is the dividing line.

A man's inward conviction at this point settles his relationship to God. No man can say that Jesus is Lord, but by the Holy Ghost. This is the point at which there should be set up a marker indicating that all who stand for the latter view ought to be separated from those who deny the true deity.

Division Will Continue.
The New Testament contains many figures of speech that indicate two classes of men regarding Jesus Christ. There are the wheat and the tares, the sheep and the goats, the good and bad fishes, the company on the right hand and the company on the left, the just and the unjust, the clean and the filthy, the man who confesses and the man who denies, Dives and Lazarus, Abraham's bosom and hell. This sounding of contrasts is not without meaning and men should heed it. Many of these, of course, belong to the hereafter and indicate that the division will continue. Whether it is properly named or not, essential universalism is a popular doctrine of today. One or two little denominations profess the doctrine, but multitudes in the denominations whose creeds directly contradict it, really accept it, and should be styled universalists.

Division Need Not Continue.
Fortunately, if the man is not a believer in the deity and Saviorhood of Jesus Christ, he can accept that belief and go over to the other side. It is no difference what may be one's prejudice touching Jesus Christ. He must take sides, he must act as the people of Jerusalem acted in answer to Pilate's question, "This man saith he is king of the Jews." It is, theoretically, a choice between two opinions, practically a choice between taking Jesus as brother or Satan as master—in short, it is a choice between eternal life and death.

Blunt Critic.

"And found it guilty?"

"Guilty? What do you mean?"

"I suppose she found it guilty. I heard her punishing it."

Pleasant Fields Of Holy Writ

THE INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON.

Third Quarter Lesson VI. 2 Chron. ixcxxxviii. 9-16. August 5, 1917. MANASSEH'S SIN AND REPENTANCE.

Golden Text: Let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts; and let him return unto Jehovah, and he will have mercy upon him; and to our God, for he will abundantly pardon. Isaiah LV. 7.

If the son had reigned like the father, Jewish history would have been a repetition of the story of the patriarchs. He threw the exemplary power incident to high position entirely on the side of a pure faith. He did more; he broke down and swept away the symbols and shrines of a base and corrupt religion. He did not waver from this high stand during a reign which extended over nearly a third of a century. Instead of perpetrating this admirable policy, Manasseh reversed it. He went through the whole catalogue of pagan vices. He was not content to go through it alone; he led his people and forced those who were unwilling. From avarice and sorcery he went on to human sacrifice. He did not hesitate to throw his own children into the fiery embrace of Moloch.

The chronicler says he used more than half a century in which to make his nation a complete recovery was never made from this dreadful lapse. Persecution naturally attended this apostasy. Tongues were raised in protest. There were knees that would not bend. Even royal patronage of idolatry was without weight with some pious souls. Manasseh made a short shift of such. He hurried the recalcitrant nobles from the cliffs, filled Jerusalem with innocent blood, and introduced a Jewish reign of terror.

But it is a long lane that has no turning. Manasseh was warned before he was struck; but he was insolent and defiant. He sinned against light and grace; and he was obstinate and inveterate in his sin. The turn was sharp when it came. The haughty king was brought to the dust. Under the barbaric customs of the day, with a heavy double chain, hand and foot, and a ring through his nose, he was led captive to Babylon.

The glory of divine justice is, that its penalties are not inflicted as matters of vengeance, but are intended to be reformatory as well as exemplary. The moment the exiled and suffering king came to himself, the God of his fathers heard his supplication and restored him to his country and to his throne.

THE TEACHER'S LANTERN.
Heathenism smoldered during Hezekiah's reign. Only a spark of it remained at his death. Manasseh might have quenched it forever. Instead, he fanned and fed it. For nations as well as individuals ascent is always difficult. Descent is easy. Moral heights are reached by the pains of self-denial. They are held by continuous watchfulness.

There is a moral gravitation which accelerates the descent of man or nation which turns to the neither way. Power of resistance diminishes. Entangling compromises seem imperative. Velocity toward hell increases in incalculable proportion.

These conditions call for a moral earnestness on the part of both nations and individuals which will not tamper with or allow the beginnings of evil. The prophets Jeremiah, Zephaniah, and Micah paint the picture of these evil times. During his exile Manasseh had opportunity to study paganism on its native heath. He saw the fruits of its ascendancy during long ages. He could compare and contrast them with the fruits of the pure theistic faith of the Hebrews. Perhaps this was one purpose of his exile.

The exemplary power of the divine clemency in the case of Manasseh can hardly be estimated. In a brutal and unforgetting age when the conqueror delighted in torturing his prisoners to death inch by inch, the Lord set his prisoners free the moment he was genuinely repentant. His punishment was reformatory, not vindictive. But Manasseh's past could not be effaced. He could no more stop the course of the evil example of half a century, than he could call back the sons he had devoted to Moloch. Sin is a fire that leaves a scar.

It seems curious that Hezekiah should have given his son the name of one of the tribes in the northern kingdom. If it was in honor of the seal in which that tribe had joined in Hezekiah's reforms, then the son strangely perverted the father's meaning, and deeply sullied a good name. If the name was given in hopes that the younger of it should reign over the reunited kingdoms, the father's hope was sadly disappointed. The son ignominiously lost his kingdom, instead of acquiring another.

History affords many parallels to the lapse under Manasseh. Witness for example the British Restoration after the Commonwealth, and the Florentine reaction after Savonarola.

What Manasseh did in Jerusalem Layard's Researches in Babylon and Nineveh combine scholarly persistence with picturesque descriptions in such a way as to make a delightful and at the same time valuable book of travel which even the passage of half a century has failed to discount.

HOW MEN CHEAT THEMSELVES. (Consecration Meeting.)

The man who fools himself is the greatest fool at last. The fact that the way he takes, seems right to him at the start, does not diminish a iota the deadliness of its terminus. The garlands and honey of the route do not compensate for the fire and brimstone at the end. The line of least resistance is probably taken by the largest number. It is most seductive. It offers immediate ease to the indolent, but it leads unerringly to a precipice or a quicksand. All devotees of folly wind up by cutting themselves with their own knives. Sincerity, knowledge, constancy—the end of these is success, peace, life. There is dignity and seriousness in life. It is not to be treated with carelessness or levity. The issues are deathless. Life cannot be a neutral thing. Its influence always goes out positively, for good or ill, in ever widening circles.

The Suicide.
Eustace Smooth, agent for the General and Particular Insurance company, after having borrowed a match from the stranger in khaki, coughed, seductively and observed, "By the way, sir, I gather from your uniform that you are soon to acquire with the Grim Reaper, as it were. Of course you are insured?"

"No," replied the late owner of the match. "I can't say that I am. In fact, as I am an aviator, I fancy most companies would not care to run the risk of insuring me."

"Nonsense!" The G. P. I. C. will insure anybody but a corpse with a death certificate signed by two reputable physicians. I can offer you a very attractive policy, sir."

"But I ought to add," added the man in khaki, "that when not aviating, my duties will consist of standing up in the trenches to attract the enemy's attention from flank attacks."

"The G. P. I. C. is always ready to take a chance," said Eustace Smooth heartily. "Let us talk over terms. By the way, I find that I have nothing to smoke, so I may as well return your match."

"No," at all—accept this cigar," begged the other.

Eustace Smooth lit up, took one puff, and leaned against a nearby wall, his face the color of an unripe squash.

"Do you smoke this brand yourself?" he gasped.

"Eleven a day," replied the man in khaki.

"I'm sorry," said Eustace Smooth, "but I'm afraid I can't talk insurance to you after all."

And he staggered dazedly off.

TROCO

Made from the White Meat of the Cocoanut Churned With Fresh Milk

THESE are the ingredients used in the churning of this new, delicious spread for bread. This we are glad to publish. There are no secrets about Troco. We must label Troco as Oleomargarine, because no new laws have yet been made since Troco was discovered.

We use no oleo oil, no hog fats, no cotton-seed oil—common ingredients used in Oleomargarine. Simply the wholesome white meat of the cocoanut and pure milk. Troco is a nut-fat butter—therefore purely vegetable. It is highly nutritious. Like ordinary butter, Troco is an energy or fuel food, but far cheaper.

A Nut-Made Butter at the Price of Fat-Made Oleomargarine

Please do not confuse Troco with common oleomargarine made from hog and cattle oils or cotton seed oil.

The use of the white meat of the cocoanut in butter-making is a recent European discovery.

Like Creamery butter, it comes to the table a rich golden color.

Capsules, containing exactly the same vegetable coloring used in creamery butter, are included in each package. The coloring process is simple.

A Great Delicacy

Fresh, crisp Troco is a most natural food—pure, appetizing, easier to digest—not distinguishable from good creamery butter. And far more inviting than fatty oleomargarine.

Troco fats—pure nut fats—possess high fuel value, needed for bodily energy. And Troco helps to build and repair bone and tissue.

Your whole family will enjoy Troco-coed Bread. It is good for them. And it saves you much.

Try This Test

Just to prove to yourself the pleasing flavor of Troco—serve it to your family for a week before telling them.

It is the same golden color, because we supply the same coloring used in creamery butter.

Note their comments.

Then tell them all about Troco and ask them if they want to give it up. In these days of high costs, tell them how much is saved, too.

Cook With Troco

Troco is fine for cooking. It is excellent for shortening. The results are the same as if butter were used.

Try Troco in baking bread. On griddle cakes. For toast. Whenever you use butter. And use all you want—remember its comparative cheapness.

All who eat at your table will be delighted.

Much Cheaper

Troco is cheaper than butter—it costs no more than oleomargarine. As for purity—you know how nature protects the white meat of the cocoanut with a thick, hard shell. No need for a tuberculin test.

In a spotless creamery, which is approved by Government officials, Troco is churned under ideal conditions. No product could be made under greater care. Use plenty of appetizing Troco—fresh and crisp—and note how much you save.

Begin Now

Order a pound or two of Troco today. Your dealer has it—or can get it easily. Put Troco to a competitive test. Both your palate and your pocket book will decide in favor of Troco. If you are not pleased, your money back.

MILITARY SUCCESS.

The qualities that make one man a military success and another man a military failure are rather obscure. Some of the finest drillmasters West Point ever turned out have not won out in actual fighting. They knew the theory of war out of books, but lacked power to command.

On the other hand, there have been never do wells who never succeeded in business, but were great soldiers. General Grant was somewhat in this class. He was a failure in business, but a success in money matters, becoming involved in debt, until finally his father took him out of the war and gave him a job at $15 per week. It is hard to account for it. One would think that the man who was careless in his business, would display in his army work a similar carelessness that would be ridiculous.

Yet the minute Grant got command of a body of men, he woke up, displayed a gift for determined action, followed up with stubborn pertinacity, and governed by a far-reaching foresight. It seems to take the intensity of battle to arouse some natures from their torpor.

For the army men to pick from the mass of raw material now in training, the fellows who have this exceptional gift, is a task calling for fine discrimination. The old standards won't count in these days of trench warfare.

It will not necessarily be the man who can make his company produce the best appearance in dress parade. A certain habit of positive command will be a large factor. The officer must have the ring of authority in his voice, almost the note of severity. It takes the spur to urge on the laggards to action. Strong and forceful characters are needed, men with quick perceptions and common sense to size up situations. But perhaps the final quality is the power for domination, only through which can a leader induce his followers to dare and do the impossible.

IS HONORED.

What is Janesville's individual loss just at this time when it has made its supreme sacrifice in sending forth one hundred and fifty-seven of its sons to war as representatives of Company M, is the order which has transferred Captain E. N. Caldwell from the immediate command to Washington, D. C.

Captain Caldwell is chosen to represent the eleventh division of the army, composed of the states of Michigan and Wisconsin troops, at the War College at Washington. There he will be instructed in intensive trench warfare according to the latest European methods. That the captain of the Janesville militia unit should be chosen above all others is particularly gratifying to his friends in the city, but it is with a source of regret that the fact is noted that his service with the local company is possibly shortened just at a time when his presence would be most important. It is gratifying to learn that Company M was the only command in the entire regiment whose papers were complete and they could be called up for their physical examination and for their clothing allowance. There is as much red tape in keeping the money and the regulations of an average company of state militia in form as there is in running interest on a note and seeing if the security on a loan is correct. Anyone who thinks that the average officer in a militia company does not have to be a statistician, an expert accountant and a diplomat, is mistaken. Recently the reports sent in by Captain Caldwell, together with his army service, have made him a prime for the new duties the war department calls upon him to perform.

For the friends of Company M, there is to be a loss and the influence he has over the men. He has created a wonderful company, not once, but twice. He took a disorganized arrangement and has built up an organization that any captain in the state guard would be proud of. It is up to the officers and the non-commissioned staff and the enlisted men to keep up the standard he has set for them, and that they will do it and do honor to the entire community from which the company is recruited is most certain. The young men who have gone out with Company M are in earnest. They are not led by any "willow-wisp" proposition. They have been taught to know what war really is and they are not afraid. During the weeks they have been in training they have learned the hard lesson of discipline, and that they have gained the respect of the men is evidenced by the fact that the members, whether wearing the uniform, or simply the red badge, have shown the type of men that offered their service to Uncle Sam. While Janesville may have lost the services of Captain Caldwell—mostly temporarily—they have gained in the knowledge that within the boundaries of the northern section of the state are a hundred and fifty-seven men who enlisted and were drilled under the auspices of Company M and are the better men today for their intensive training under such a man as the captain and his two lieutenants. When the Edgerton contingent goes out next week we can rest assured that the same conditions exist, for in Lieutenant Wood, as commander of the Edgerton platoon, and Captain Caldwell at Janesville, this section of the state has been well represented. With two such men as Caldwell and Wood, both former regular army sergeants, the young men who have enlisted in the detachments of the military unit represented by their teachings have had the best training possible. It is only to be regretted at this time that Captain Caldwell is not able to remain with his command and complete the glorious work he has begun, but at the same time we all feel a personal pride in his selection to represent the eleventh army division at Washington, but selfishly wish it had been someone else just at this time.

COST AND PRICE.

"There is no necessary relations between 'cost' and 'price,' although each, in a general way, represents what a thing is worth. Price may, however, be much less or much more at the time of sale than the cost in dollars of a commodity at the time when it was bought or manufactured. As used in the food bill, cost means cash outlay; it means this also in the discussion of fair prices for steel and copper. But 'price' includes cost and a profit or reward beside. It includes the inducement to continue in the particular industry. It covers that compensation through which trade civilizes and lifts society," says an eastern exchange.

"No specific influence affects price like war. When this war came, both cost and price of woollens rose anomalously. The merchant who bought a suit at ten dollars, sold it at sixteen, bought again at sixteen and sold at twenty-four. On the first sale the 'normal' price covered cost and gross profit of six dollars. After deducting labor, interest, and many other items, no profit was left. Cost plus profit of even fifty per cent, would have meant an actual loss in gross.

"On a rising war market the manufacturer of steel must sell at a price which will enable him to replace a similar quantity of ore at an advance, cover wages at an advance, plant replacement and depreciation at an advance, as well as a reward or a fair compensation for the extraordinary risk incident to the investment of his capital in the enterprise at such a time. The dollar cost of the manufactured product plus ten per centum profit may fall far below the real value or true price of the steel or copper product at the time of its sale.

VEGETABLE PRICES

It is estimated that there are this summer in this country, three times as many vegetable gardens as commonly. Yet the complaint is made in many localities, that while vegetable prices have come down from the high rates prevailing previously, yet they are far above the prices of a year or two ago.

In spite of all the gardens, it is not probable that the supply of vegetables will be three times as large as usual. Many of the amateurs will be very tired before the summer is over and they will gather a superb crop of weeds and an indifferent crop of vegetables. But it seems reasonable to hope that the supply of vegetables will be doubled from last year.

Under these conditions it seems hard to believe that vegetable prices can remain high. Producers and wholesalers will do well to be content with moderate prices. They need not think that the American people have an inexhaustible treasury of greenbacks and can pay high figures indefinitely. It will be good patriotism and good business to make moderate prices so as to encourage the free use of garden produce, and save our wheat and corn for the needs of our allies and ourselves through the winter.

"It may be supposed that a Governmental regulation of the price will prevent what is called inflation. It will have no such effect. Unless at the time when the price of copper or steel is regulated, general wages and general wages and general commodity prices are also regulated, the only result will be, not to keep down inflation but to rest its swollen bulk most inequally on the manufacturers who are regulated, unless they quit business altogether.

"Like the clothing merchant, they will have the choice either of adding new capital to that already invested to replace the commodities sold under regulation, at greater cost than the sale price—a process frequently repeated through the war when 'new money' was added to capital worked into business—or they will abandon an enterprise which holds out to them no reward or just return for the unusual risk undertaken, and does not permit the return to them even of the purchasing power of the original investment."

Some types of men feel quite reconciled to physical defects with this selective draft threatening them.

Those plotters who are planning to blow up factories would better start running just about now while the running is good.

After shopping around to save seven cents on a peck of potatoes, some people will pay $750 to boot to get a 1917 automobile.

It is about time to collect hot dogs and fish balls with which to celebrate Fried Chicken Day Sept. 1.

If baseball bleacher seats were made 10 cents each, less would be heard from those people who claim the baseball championships are all set up.

"APPLIED FOR" TAGS AND DEALER PLATES OBJECT OF SCRUTINY

Secretary of State Hull Requests Police to Aid in Reducing Number of Auto License Fee Evaders.

Auto licensees using star number license plates on taxicabs, and private owners driving the "License Applied For" placards were a source of investigation by the police today following the receipt of a letter this morning by Chief of Police P. D. Champion from Mr. J. H. Hull, secretary of state, who asked the co-operation of the department in the rounding up of those who are seeking to evade license fee payments.

From the correspondence it is apparent that state officials have reached the conclusion that the number of cars operating in Wisconsin without licenses is not a minimum. The letter says that dealers may use their star license plates only for demonstration purposes, and not for private livery service. That there is absolutely no need for the "License Applied For" placards is found in the fact, Secretary Hull writes, that license plates are forwarded from his department within thirty-six hours from the receipt of the application for license and remittance.

Mr. Hull's letter in full is as follows: Madison, Wis., Aug. 2. Mr. P. D. Champion, Chief of Police, Janesville, Wis.

Dear Sir: The legislature of 1917 has enacted further law to bring about more rigid enforcement of the regulations regarding the licensing of automobiles and motorcycles. This department, therefore, solicits your earnest co-operation to the end that the number of cars operating without proper licenses may be reduced to the minimum.

Auto plates are now sent out from this department within thirty-six hours from the receipt of the application for license and remittance. There is, therefore, no excuse for parties operating cars with "License Applied For" placards, or without plates.

Under the law, as construed by the attorney general, dealers may use their star number license plates only for demonstration purposes, and not for private or livery service. Dealers using cars for private or livery purposes are required to pay the regular fee of $3.00 and display the regular form of auto license plate.

Will you kindly give this matter your attention and assist us in rounding up those who are seeking to evade license fee payments?

Assuring you of our appreciation of your efforts, I am,

Very truly yours,

J. H. HULL,
Secretary of State.

START DISTRIBUTION OF THE FAIR HERALD

Janesville Fair Only One in County This Year—Tremendous Exhibits Assured.

Distribution of the thirty thousand copies of the Fair Herald throughout the entire county has been started by the officers of the Park association, and it is expected that within a few days every house in Rock county and in the surrounding towns will have the eight page paper, describing in detail the 1917 fair which will be held August 14, 15, 16 and 17.

With both the Rock county fair at Evansville and the Winnebago county fair held at Beloit called off for this year, the Janesville exhibition is looked upon as the big event in the southern part of the state. Records of every kind will go to the boards. More people are expected, better and faster horses are entered for the racing meet, a bigger exhibit of stock will be shown, and there will be more attractions for the throngs of people.

Wide publicity is being given the Janesville fair, not only in every hamlet in the county but throughout the entire middle west, where breeders are being attracted by the quality and size of the stock exhibit. The finest collection of Short Horn cattle ever shown at a county fair will be on exhibition this year, and this represents but one branch of the show. "Minerva Beets," the champion Holstein cow of the world, will be here, and cows from a majority of most of the wealthy breeders of the west will be on exhibition.

Stall room for 320 head of cattle has been provided already and more is being prepared to care for the overflow. Boxstalls for 112 racing horses are in place, and accommodations for a great number of sheep, swine, draft and driving horses and poultry are being put into shape for the fair.

Judging from the deluge of letters which Harry Nowlan has received in the last few days, the prize this year will be the greatest in the history of the local fair. Scores of people are bidding for concessions for shows and amusement devices. That there is no controversy over the character of any of the shows exhibiting at the fair, an inspector sent out by the state will be on hand to pass judgment on every show. It is official. It must be added in securing the $2,500 state aid allowed the fair.

Mr. Nowlan and Dr. Wayne A. Munn left this morning for a trip through the northern tier of Illinois counties, visiting breeders and farmers and boosting interest in the Janesville fair.

One of the big features of this year's fair will be the "Made in Janesville" show to be put on under the grandstand. Here every product made by local concerns will be shown, and the merchants of the city will exhibit their wares.

A big gang of laborers will go to work Monday on the fair grounds, putting it into shape, clearing the buildings, and making all necessary repairs and alterations.

EXTEND AN INVITATION TO EVANSVILLE WOMEN TO SEE RED CROSS WORK

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Evansville, Aug. 3.—The women of Evansville are cordially invited and requested to go to the city hall tomorrow Saturday afternoon, and see the work that has been done by our local Red Cross chapter. This work is ready for packing and will be sent away immediately. Every girl is invited to see for themselves what has been accomplished. Don't depend upon what people say—come and see for yourself.

The inspectors from Janesville who were here the other day admired our work very much. Monday afternoon the Red Cross headquarters will be turned over to Mrs. C. M. Smith and her corps of workers for the surgical dressing work.

Rachael, Virginia and Joseph Page left this morning for northern Wisconsin, where they will visit relatives in several cities.

No pessimist enjoys life unless he doesn't.

CROWD HILLS TO SEE SLICK AMERICAN FLEET

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Base American foothills in British Waters, Aug. 3.—Aston a steep activity that skirts the harbor of this port much like the railroads do the Hudson river, hundreds of villagers and folk from a nearby city gather each night to watch the American destroyers—the trim little fighting ships known as the "Slicks"—at anchor in the Atlantic to combat the submarines. On a peaceful, beautiful, moonlight night these people have a picture of silent activity that is hard to beat.
From their high perch the people can see for several miles a vast expanse of hills and water that make a wonderful setting for the floating craft at their feet. The British and American sailors on shore leaves bring their girls up there and men and women trudge baby carriages from miles around to watch the silent ships. It has come to be one of the most popular walks in the country; even the railroads run weekend excursions to the spot, bringing hundreds of holiday-makers and sight-seers from distant towns and cities.
Up to a certain hour the ships are outlined in the darkness by many lights. But all the time there is a scene of activity on board each ship. The white jackets with their bright buttons, the motor dories dart here and there among the ships, ordered by the shrill wharving of the horn on the dories. Always the dories are running from ships to shore, loaded with men going on leaves or returning to ship. Wireless and searchlights which at night replace the flag signals and some phones are exchanging messages and lights on board each ship flicker up and out in Morse code.
In the midst of all this is heard the strains of string music—guitars, banjos and violins—which seem to be favorites with the American boys. From the deck of the supply or mother ship, while bands of string orchestra of fifteen pieces, Hawaiian melodies enchant the music lovers on shore. From other ships music comes from every phonograph, with every ship in the harbor is supplied. On week-ends many of the townspeople crowd into small boats and swim about the destroyers in their anxiety to get as close as possible to the music.

JAPS BEAT AMERICAN; U. S. INVESTIGATING

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Mukden, Manchuria, Aug. 3.—Negotiations concerning what is known as the Popper case are under way to be going on between the United States and Japan.
The case which involves J. E. Popper, an American engineer, has its origin in August, 1915, when Mr. Popper, who was in the employ of the Chinese provincial government, is said to have been assaulted by Japanese coolies in the international settlement. The American contention is that Mr. Popper observing that several of the Chinese coolies in the employ of the Japanese electric works, of which he has charge, were being molested by Japanese coolies, requested the Japanese to desist.
The Japanese turned upon Mr. Popper, it is asserted, and clubbed and beat him almost to insensibility. He was rescued by the American vice-consul, who was hurriedly called to the scene.
It is claimed that the Japanese consul-general volunteered an apology for the incident, but as it was not made the consul was asked to try the case in the Japanese consular court. After some difficulty Mr. Popper secured the services of a Japanese lawyer to represent him. After a hearing it was announced that the lawyer had informed the court that Mr. Popper had withdrawn his complaint, though Mr. Popper declares he gave no such authority.
The American consulate requested that the case be reopened, but the Japanese consul replied that this was not possible as the case was closed. Finally, after further conferences, the Japanese informed the Americans that the period in which Mr. Popper could have appealed had elapsed and that nothing further could be done. It is understood that the authorities at Washington have become interested in the case and have asked for complete report.

URGES DRAFTED MEN TO DO WAR SERVICE

Madison, Wis., Aug. 3.—The state council of defense in a letter today to all drafted men in the state of Wisconsin, urges their immediate entering the service of their country.
Claims for exemption, based on individual convenience, or to escape personal loss of money or property are unworthy of consideration and will not be granted, the letter declares.
The council makes an appeal to the manhood and Americanism of Wisconsin sons, asking for a whole-hearted patriotic response when the registration boards meet. The letter to all drafted men is as follows:
"Your government is about to apply the 'acid test' to your manhood and your patriotism.
Within forty-eight hours you are to go before an exemption board and either (1) without hesitation renew your allegiance to your country by saying, 'I am ready' or (2) ask for release from the call which your country extends to you.
In the solemn hours of reflection between now and then, let your conscience be your sole judge. If blessed with physical strength, and if your dependents are provided for, respond quickly and nobly, thereby passing your name into history as one of Wisconsin's noble sons.
Forms for exemption, based on individual convenience, or to escape personal loss of money or property are unworthy of consideration and will not be granted.
From each one selected is demanded some sacrifice. A selected man offers his life, and there is no greater sacrifice than that a man give his life for others. He who seeks exemption falsely when he is able-bodied and without dependents shirks his sacred duty, besmirches his honor and sullies the name which his children must bear. He thereby forces some other man—his neighbor—to make his sacrifice and take his risks.
The state council of defense therefore makes this appeal to the manhood and Americanism of Wisconsin's sons and urges each and everyone to remember this solemn duty to his country in this hour of her supreme need.
"May we not have the same whole-hearted patriotic response when the exemption boards meet that was everywhere evident on registration day?"

Always Careful.
"Why is it that old Closest never has anything to say?"
"Just a development of his general character and disposition. He is miserably even with the parts of speech."
—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

NIGHT WORK BARRED TO FACTORY WOMEN

(Special to the Gazette.)
Madison, Wis., Aug. 3.—The order of the industrial union prohibiting night work for women in factories and laundries went into effect Wednesday. There were only a few complaints from owners of the state regarding the new order, some of these come from factories. This order does not affect laundries.
Nevertheless, one feature of the order will probably cause shorter hours for some of the women in the state. For day work employment can be given to women for ten hours daily, but not to exceed 55 hours a week. Night work for women in other than laundries and factories is limited to eight hours a day or 48 hours a week. One of the rules of the commission in drafting this order was to limit the number of hours of work for women. This rule is to the effect that to employ a woman one night a week after 6:30 p. m. shall be construed as a night work, and that this latter restriction of the state that have kept one night a week. When they work a night a week after 6:30 p. m. the night hour schedule and the 48 hours week schedule applies.

HOW TO TELL RANK OF AMERICAN NAVAL OFFICER AT A GLANCE

Washington, Aug. 3.—You can recognize the rank of an American naval officer by knowing that:
A naval ensign has a gold bar on his epaulettes.
A junior lieutenant has two gold bars thereon.
A lieutenant commander has two and one-half gold bars.
A commander has three gold bars.
A captain has four gold bars.
A rear admiral has a star, a narrow and a broad gold band.
A vice admiral has a star, two narrow and a broad gold band.
An admiral of the navy has three narrow and a broad gold band, preceded by a star, as in the case of a rear and vice admiral.
The late Admiral Dewey is the only admiral of the navy on record.

"That's it, exactly," Smith put in quietly. "And I should say that your strike in the game is worth the stiffest fight you can make to save it. Don't you agree with me?"

"Good John!" I should say so!" ejaculated the amateur trust fighter. "Then he broke down the barbers masterfully. That settles it, Smith. You can't wiggle out of it now, no way or shape. You've got to come over into Macedonia and help us. Williams tells me you refused him, but you can't refuse me!"

If Smith hesitated, it was only partly on his own account. He was thinking of the young woman with the honest eyes when he said: "Do you know why I turned Williams down when he spoke to me the other day?"

"Colonel Dexter Baldwin told his faults. Like other men, but they were not those of indifference."

"I reckon I do know, son," he said, with large tolerances. "You're a 'lame duck' of some sort. But that's your lookout. Bartley is ready to swear that you are not a crooked crook, whatever else it is that you're dodging for. Besides, there's yesterday—"

"We agreed to forget the yesterday incidents," the lame duck reminded him quickly. And then: "I ought to say 'No,' Colonel Baldwin; I don't say it—straight out, and stick to it. If I don't say it—if I ask for a little time—it is because I want to weigh up a few things—the things I can't talk about to you or to Williams. If, in the end, I should be fool enough to say 'Yes,' it is only fair to you to say that, right in the middle of the scrap, I may fall to pieces on you."

Baldwin was too shrewd to try to

ANNOYING SYMPTOMS

How Heat Flashes, Dizzy Spells and other Bad Feelings at Change of Life may be Relieved.

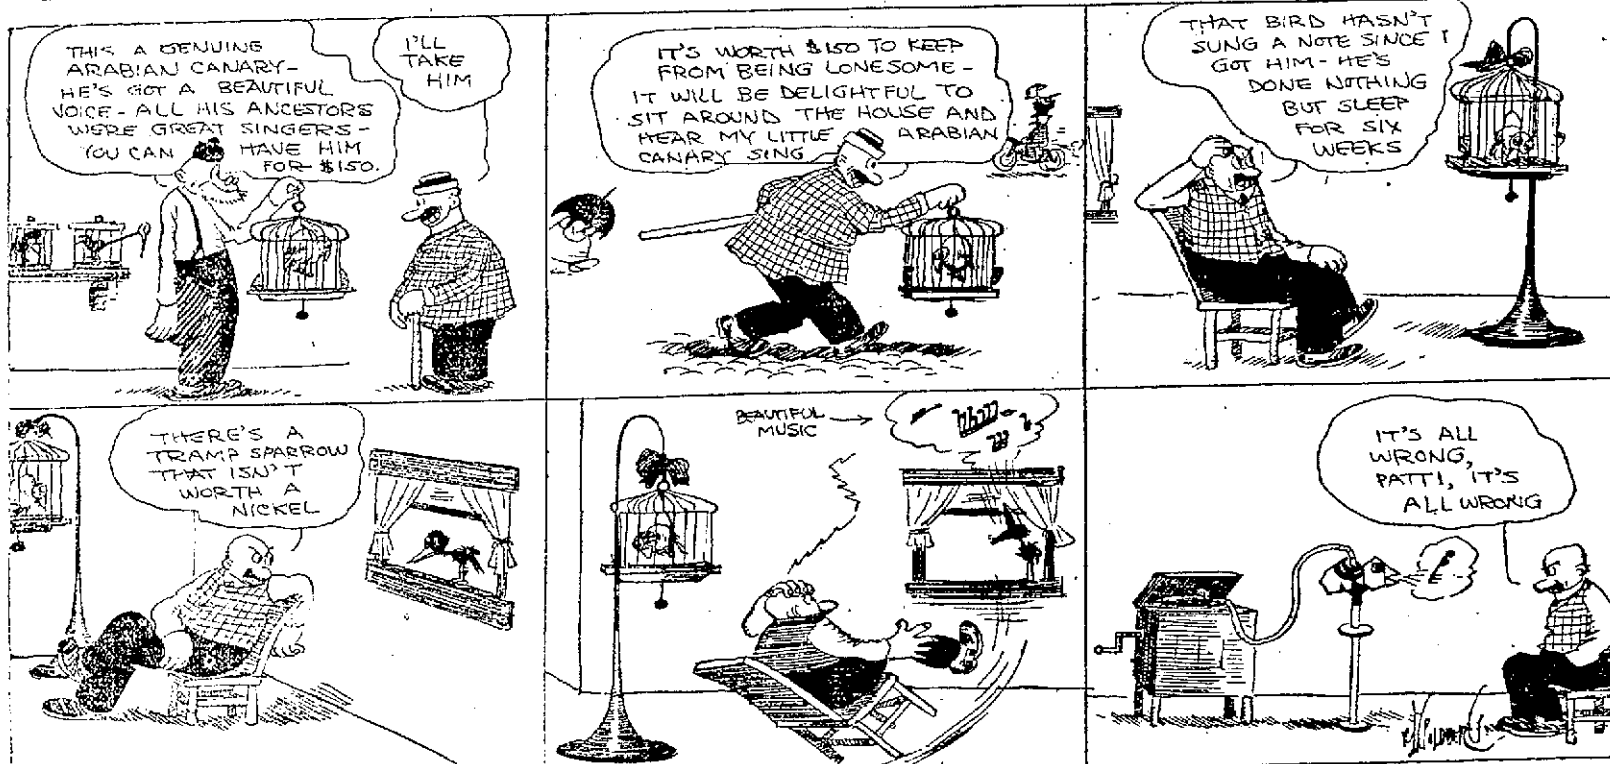

Richmond, Va. "After taking seven bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I feel like a new woman. I always had a headache during the Change of Life and was also troubled with other bad feelings common at that time—dizzy spells, nervous feelings and heat flashes. Now I am in better health than I ever was and recommend your remedies to all my friends."—Mrs. LENA WYNN, 2812 E. O Street, Richmond, Va.

While Change of Life is a most critical period of a woman's existence, the annoying symptoms which accompany it may be controlled, and normal health restored by the timely use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Such warning symptoms are a sense of suffocation, hot flashes, headaches, backaches, dread of impending evil, timidity, sounds in the ears, palpitation of the heart, sparks before the eyes, irregularities, constipation, variable appetite, weakness and dizziness.

Mrs. Baldwin saw nothing of the rude fighter of battles her daughter had drawn for her, and wondered a little. She knew Corona's leanings, and was not without an amused impression that Corona would not find this later Smithsonian phase altogether to her liking.

SILLYSONNETS

Dinner Stories

It was a little hard on the boy, for he meant well, and had a sincere admiration for the girl. They were sitting at the tea-table with a company of others, and as he passed her the sugar he murmured in an undertone:

"Here it is, sweet just like you." The compliment was a little awkward, to be sure, but he meant it, and it seemed more than cruel when a moment later she had occasion to pass the butter to him, and drawled:

"Here it is, soft, just like you."

He was a New Yorker visiting in a South Carolina village, and he sauntered up to a native sitting in front of the general store and began a conversation.

"Have you heard about the new manner in which the planters are going to pick their cotton this season?" he inquired.

"Really?" he said. "What have I done?"

"Isn't what you've done; it's what you are," she retorted. "You have committed the unpardonable sin by turning out to be just one of the ninety-nine, after all. If you knew women the least little bit in the world, you would know that we are always looking for the hundredth man."

Under his smile, Smith was beginning to understand what this astonishingly frank young woman meant. She had seen his relapse, and was calmly deciding him for it.

"You Have Committed the Unpardonable Sin."

"You may pile it on as thickly as you please," he said, the good-natured smile raising itself into the construction-camp grin. "Then, with malice aforethought: 'Is it one of the requirements that your centennial man should behave himself like a boor at a dinner table, and talk shop and eat with his knife?'"

"You know that isn't what I meant. Manners don't make the man. It's what you talked about—the trumpery little social things that you found your keenest pleasure in talking about. I don't know what has ever taken you out to a construction camp. I don't believe you ever did a day's hard work in your life before you came to the Timanyont."

It was growing dark by this time, and the stars were coming out. Someone had turned the lights on in the room the windows of which opened upon the portico, and the young woman's chair was so placed that he could still see her face. She was smiling rather more amicably when she said:

"You mustn't take it too hard. It isn't you, personally, you know; it's the type. I've met it before. I didn't meet any other kind during my three years in the boarding school; nice, pleasant young gentlemen, as immaculately dressed as their pocketbooks would allow, up to the latest little courtesies and tea-table shop talk. They were all men, I suppose, but I'm afraid a good many of them had never found it out—will never find it out. I've been calling it environment; I don't like to admit that the race is going downhill."

By this time the sardonic humor was once more in full possession, and he was enjoying her keenly.

"Go on," he said. "This is my night off."

"I've said enough; too much, perhaps. But when you were walking with mamma, you reminded me so forcibly of a man whom I met just for a part of one evening about a year ago in a small town in the middle West. He was one of them. He drove over from some neighboring town in his natty little automobile, and gave me fully an hour of his valuable time. He made me perfectly furious!"

"Poor you!" laughed Smith; but he was thankful that the camp suburb and his four weeks' beard were safeguarding his identity. "But why the fury in his case in particular?"

All that a good newspaper should be.

The Sunday Journal has all of the qualities that make it a newspaper FOR THE HOME. The fact that it goes into over 100,000 Wisconsin homes every Sunday is ample evidence of this. HOME is the keynote of The Sunday Journal—father, mother, sister, brother and the children are all considered in making up the newspaper that is to be read by all. FATHER is interested in the complete and clear presentation of the day's latest and most important news. The Sunday Journal with its world-wide news-gathering staff, its noted contributors, its private leased wires supplies Father with counsel and inspiration as to his course in shaping government or public policies; MOTHER wants to know what's happening in politics, in the Red Cross, in Conservation, in domestic economy, in fashions—The Sunday Journal anticipates mother's needs with articles by trained women journalists who write in a woman's way. And BROTHER—the fighting man—he may not be in khaki—but in his day's work in factory, store, office or at school he is fighting for his future and his family—he's interested in real sporting news—the sport pages of The Sunday Journal are complete; SISTER will find in The Sunday Journal the mind nourishing articles, philosophy and helpfulness she needs. There's something for the down-to-date girl on every page of The Sunday Journal; the CHILDREN like the "comics." The Sunday Journal has four pages of fun makers to help mother entertain the kiddies.

Any one of the many valuable articles and special features found in The Sunday Journal is worth more than the price you pay. Read it one Sunday and you'll read it regularly. Phone your order to Local Headquarters—a carrier will bring The

WANTS BIG CROWD AT GAME SUNDAY TO SEE CARDS WIN

Club Secretary Hopes for Larger Attendance Than Those Which Have Featured Past Games.

"We've got to have larger crowds at the games here," said Secretary Peter V. Kuhn of the Janesville baseball association, at a meeting of the club last night. "We are spending money to place Janesville on the baseball map, but with the poor attendance we have had to date it is apparent the club cannot go much further unless we have something coming in at the gates and at the grandstands."

The team has been revamped and bolstered and is now the equal of any on the circuit. During the past four weeks the Cardinals have been playing good baseball, and they are worthy of better backing.

"Sunday we play the Rockford Maroons. Conditions arising from the fact that the Rockford management has been informed by the league directors that unless they make a better showing this Sunday they will be dropped from the organization, tend to indicate that this contest will be a good one to see. The Maroons will be out to beat Janesville and retain in the league. The Cardinals, seeing an opportunity to further increase their percentage standing and crawl up a notch on the leaders, will be out to win again."

With such conditions existing it is easily understood that this game will be a fight from start to finish. With such the case, the club directors urge every fan to turn up upon other week and the ladies too, that the local team needs their support and we want every fan to bring a couple more with him. If we finish well up in the league again next season, we will be able to play better ball, too, because we will know that we can spend money for players without having that old game receipts will warrant such.

Rockford is "hot" and heavy, determined to erase the defeat handed them two weeks ago, when (Crosby) knocked them 3 to 0. Crosby will be the main attraction. The Cardinals have made several changes in their infield a number of former players are to be used by Manager Kuhn.

SKERWOOD MAGEE DUE FOR WAIVERS

Sherwood Magee, star and first baseman of the Phillies, is due for a change of teams, according to reports from Philadelphia. Magee is giving his team a taste of the medicine that was handed American batters by Connie Mack. No one is to be spared in the wide sweep of his bat.

Magee's manager, a contract last winter. The injury in his leg was a disaster, and for a time he held rights to a prominent position in the Cardinals. He left the Cardinals in the trade that sent him to the Phillies. Magee has been a wonder for the Phillies. He has just much of his speed and his batting has been at the old mark. Younger blood promises to give him a trip to the minors.

Konetchy to Go? The same bludge promises to be the Cardinals' secret weapon. Konetchy, reports say, has been unable to get started since he left St. Louis in the trade that sent him to the Cardinals. Konetchy's season among the Cardinals was a success, but he has been unable to strike his old gait for the Phillies.

The Phillies are said to be scouring the market for a first sacker to replace Konetchy.

In the same line it is being pointed out nearly everywhere that the strength John Evers was expected to add to the Phillies has failed to develop.

Evers, after a time of sickness, reported to the Phillies, and is being played in a condition to play. His fielding has been splendid, but he is not hitting.

hasn't the fire and pepper of other days.

World's Champs.—Not Now. The Boston National League world's champion club lasted briefly. A complete rebuilding, the second in the club's history since Stallings came into the management, now is in progress.

Reports are persistent that Toronto is going to be a major league city next year. Efforts to move the Washington club still are in progress, though decidedly under cover.

Christy Mathewson, manager of the Cincinnati Reds and former Giant idol, does not harbor any penitential ambition, at least no public one. He has been heard to say that he has duplicated the feat of the 1914 Boston Braves, who beat out the Giants after being last in July. He keeps that hope in his bosom. Outwardly he admits that it looks like a runaway for the Giants.

But Matty has one ambition which he conceals. It is a big ambition, and to achieve it will mean more in Cincinnati than such things as pennants in Boston, Philadelphia and New York, where pennants have been won so often that they have cheapened their value. Matty will feel well satisfied if he can finish in second place.

It was just thirty-nine years ago that the first Cincinnati National League team finished in the runner up position. In 1878, the third year of the league's existence, the old Boston Red Stockings, Boston had a percentage of .707, against .617 for the Reds. That is the closest Cincinnati ever has come to winning a pennant.

Three other Red teams climbed as high as third, but since the last Cincinnati team finished third in 1904, the Reds have had a dismal record. During the last twelve years two Cincinnati teams have finished as high as fourth. In 1909 Griffith piloted a team which had a percentage of .504, but managed to finish fourth, while in 1912 Hank O'Day's year in Cincy, the team had a percentage of only .490, but somehow or other landed fourth.

There was the Bombay derby, for instance, which brought together the best of the Arab horses owned in India, where the myth as to their superior fleetness still obtains. It was won by one Majbur, property of an English gentleman who races under the nom de course of R. S. S. Majbur, carrying 129 pounds, in a race at a mile and a half, won all out, in 2:52 1/2, with the rest of the field beaten off in that slow time at staggering intervals.

The Columbus Association club has landed Jim Kelly (Taggart) from Great Falls and Harry Harper from Tacoma, according to announcements. Though both players have indicated a desire to stay in the northwest and finish up playing independent ball.

PROGRAM READY FOR STATE GOLF TOURNEY

Janesville Golfers Will be Interested in Events to be Played Next Week in Milwaukee.

A delegation of Janesville golfers will enter the event of the Wisconsin State Golf association, whose seventeenth annual tourney will take place on August 6, 7, 8, 9, 10 and 11, at the Milwaukee Country Club.

In place of cups or medals usually given to contestants in the different events, certificates will be presented and the money value of prizes is to be donated to the Red Cross work.

The winner of the Red Cross championship of Wisconsin and his club will have the custody of the trophy until the next annual competition. A certificate will be awarded to the winner of the championship to the runner-up and to the semi-finalists. The program is as follows:

Monday, Aug. 5.

Trophy to be in custody of the club which the father represents until next competition. Certificates for winners and for best medal play.

2:00 p. m.—Tule trophy. Team of five players from each club, 18 holes, match play against bogey.

Trophy to be in the custody of the club having the winning team until next competition. Each member of the winning team to receive a certificate.

3:30 p. m.—Junior handicap trophy. 18 holes, medal play handicap for players under 18 years of age. Open to sons of members in the Wisconsin State Golf association.

Tuesday, Aug. 7.
8:00 a. m.—Elimination round, 18 holes, medal play.

Sixty-four to be continued Wednesday morning.

The 16 scores after sixty-fourth place qualify for fourth night or secretary's trophy.

Wednesday, Aug. 8.
8:00 a. m.—The low 8 scores of Tuesday play 18 holes, medal play; 32 to qualify for championship by addition of scores made in elimination and this round.

The next 16 to qualify for the president's trophy.

The next 16 to qualify for the director's trophy.

The 16 as shown under Tuesday qualify for secretary's trophy.

A certificate will be given for the low qualifying score in championship flight.

10:00 a. m.—For those not playing in championship flight, certificate will be presented for 18 holes, medal play handicap.

2:00 p. m.—First round match play championship.

Thursday, Aug. 9.
8:00 a. m.—Second round, match play, championship.

First round, match play, president's trophy.

First round, match play, director's trophy.

First round, match play, secretary's trophy.

Second round, match play, vice president's trophy.

GOV. PHILIP TO VISIT NUMEROUS COUNTY FAIRS

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Madison, Wis., Aug. 3.—Governor Philip expects to visit many of the county fairs this fall. He says that he has received many invitations and inasmuch as many of the fairs have followed the custom of having "Governor's day" he will accept many of these invitations to appear at the fairs.

Although the governor has received many invitations to speak throughout the state this summer he has declined practically all of them. He promised former Assemblyman Budlong, Manitowish, that he would come to that city on August 16 to deliver an address to an old settlers' meeting and home gathering there.
